

Heat Illness Awareness Online!

In many different industries there are jobs that have a risk of heat illness, which includes heat rash and more serious illness, such as heat stroke, that can result in death. This course includes information on types of heat illness, symptoms, treatment, and controls and strategies for managing heat stress. This course has been designed to help you meet all regulatory and government requirements including the Alberta Occupational Health and Safety Code.

This one-hour course is part of the THRIL certificate program series, developed by Gemini and well-known, highly respected industry professionals. THRIL certificates are designed to easily and inexpensively obtain essential training that leads towards recognized certification and qualifies for compulsory certification maintenance points to preserve ROH and CRSP designations.

On completion of this course you will be able to:

- Define heat stress,
- Identify mechanisms for heat transfer,
- List different types of heat illness,
- List the symptoms of, and treatment for, different types of heat illness,
- List controls for heat illness,
- Describe recommendations for employers,
- Describe recommendations for workers, and
- Describe methods of heat measurement.

THRIL assessments are also available for all THRIL courses ideal for learners that wish to challenge the course for recertification purposes.
